Our solutions make a difference!

Calsoft ES and Microsoft Office SharePoint Server means consistent, collective and systematic working

Working with Calsoft ES, you can build an Enterprise Content Management (ECM) system for today, with the assurance of being able to add, extend and grow as your content requirements evolve.

Organisations are today faced with the daunting task of managing an ever increasing volume of information. An exponential increase of content in all its forms and formats – documents and paper, web, wireless and digital has pushed the need for effective management of corporate content to a strategic level within an enterprise.

This has created business challenges across all industry sectors

- Organisations suffer from lost productivity owing to workers looking for information required to do their job. IDC indicates that nearly 40% of users cite the inability to find information as one of the leading impediments of productivity improvements
- Lost opportunity and reduced profits resulting from an inability to effectively share, collaborate and apply critical knowledge
- Ineffective information sharing builds up work redundancy due to knowledge workers duplicating efforts rather than learning from each other

Progressive organisations are implementing Enterprise Content Management (ECM) to directly impact employee productivity, improve organisational agility and achieve superior business insight for a competitive edge. Calsoft ES helps organisations use MOSS to translate enterprise content into a strategic asset, deriving real business value.

Calsoft ES and Microsoft Office SharePoint Server: Delivering improved business performance

By combining our wide industry experience, project expertise and technical skills with proven methodologies, Calsoft ES delivers real business benefits through SharePoint solutions.

Our comprehensive Services portfolio

- Business consulting via our executive briefing sessions aimed at enhancing awareness among key stakeholders on how collaboration and content management can drive better decisions and improve business performance
- Build, test and deploy the solution by leveraging our global experts and right-shore development model (on-shore Project Management, off-shore Delivery Centre) to speed development and lower costs
- Solution development by applying cost-effective, reusable assets
- User training to ensure effective technology adoption
- Application management outsourcing for a long term cost advantage

Calsoft's MOSS Practice can address your specific content management requirements or deliver and design a comprehensive collaboration strategy and road map that helps transform your organisational performance and competitiveness.

Calsoft implemented an intranet portal using MOSS (Microsoft Office SharePoint Server) that allows Chemoil to collaborate internally (across locations) and externally with our partners. The intranet portal serves as a collaboration platform for our employees across 6 countries. With concepts like Virtual Data Rooms (VDR) documents are efficiently shared across locations.
